NEVILLE JOHNSON
DESIGN WITHOUT COMPROMISE

BRINGING YOUR HALLWAY AND STAIRS TO LIFE The New Cotswold Range from Neville Johnson

Often an overlooked and neglected area of the home, the hallway is a frequently awkward space which we struggle to make use of. To combat this issue Neville Johnson, pioneers of bespoke of fitted furniture, has created the stunning new Cotswold Cherry and Alder range.

The company prides itself on its ability to utilise all space in the home and this range is no exception. The new collection consists of cleverly positioned shelving, cupboards and drawers which create a dramatic amount of storage. The study and library concept (pictured below) is just one of the many furniture solutions which not only maximises space but provides your hallway and stairs with a stylish and elegant finish. Consider exciting options from striking floor to ceiling shelving to a cosy study under the stairs.

The possibilities really are endless, as Neville Johnson will create the ultimate bespoke furniture solution to suit individual requirements and tastes. For example, the size of shelving throughout the library concept can be adjusted to stow away belongings of any shape or size.

Similarly versatile is the space under the stairs. All families crave extra storage for items such as shoes or coats, which can be solved with a pull out storage cabinet. Or for that additional workspace - or even somewhere just to take a seat and chat on the phone - a desk/office area can make a real and practical difference.

The period design of the concept illustrated suggests a more classic finish, however if a more contemporary look is desired then this can be created from simpler finishes in gloss, painted colours or even a combination of both with a dramatic wood grain.

So, to bring your hallway and stairs to life with the Cotswold concept, why not arrange a free consultation with a Neville Johnson designer – or to receive a brochure, please call 0161 873 8333. The Cotswold range is available from £3000.
